Ramadan Blossom Planner

#BlossomYourRamadan
Salam alaykum - Peace be upon you,

First and foremost, I would like to wish you and your loved ones a blessed and productive Ramadan. I pray that as you come closer to the Almighty, he comes to you twice as fast.

Last year we outlined how important it is – especially as young people- to invest in planning our Ramadan and in setting clear targets, which we want to achieve throughout this blessed month. This year we want to go one step further and want to encourage you to also use this holy month to reflect on your life and personality and work on your mental health. We saw a big need to provide our youth a safe space and tools to actively work on habits to progress in these areas throughout the month. One of the ways in which we tried to ingest in mental health was of course our “Mind the Gap!” study session which took place a month before Ramadan.

The process of change and development we have before and throughout Ramadan reflects the blossoming of flowers, which go through a lot of hardship before they become the beautiful flowers that we are able to see and enjoy in spring and summer. Finding a strong meaning through this symbolism, we decided to design the Ramadan Planner around this concept:

“Just like flowers blossom every spring, so do we every Ramadan.”

Our dear Blossomers, taking inspiration from this concept, I encourage you to reflect on yourself, family and society, and to think of new sustainable habits to further strengthen your relationship with Allah (swt), to improve your family relations, and to contribute your Sadaqah and Zakat to worthy causes. I really hope that all of us appreciates the opportunity Allah gifted us with reaching Ramadan by renewing our intentions for this year, our life journey but also to actively work on ourselves – spiritually, mentally and physically at the end of the holy month of Ramadan, we will hopefully have blossomed once again, and have become better Muslims and the very best version of ourselves.

May Allah (swt) accept your fasting, prayers and acts of good during this blessed month. May He envelop us in His mercy and forgiveness, beautify our hearts with iman and make the Qur’an a light in our hearts and a cure for all distress. May Allah (swt) shower you and your families with His (swt)’s abundant Mercy and Blessings. May Allah (swt) grant peace and stability to all people who are in need and grant them patience. Ameen.

Weekly Reflection

Salam alaykum!

Before starting your Ramadan journey, we advise you to go through the following questions that we’ve prepared for you to wisely utilise this blessed month wisely, as an opportunity to improve and to change. So, please take your time, be sincere and don’t forget to renew your niyyah (intention) to change with the help of Allah actively.

We recommend you to focus on one personal goal at a time. Bismillah, let’s go!*

WEek 1
1. What do you want to change about yourself?
2. Is your personal goal realistic and why is it important to you?
3. What can help you to change it?
4. When do you want to achieve this personal goal?

This night is translated as “Night of destiny” and is the most valuable night within Ramadan. The exact time is unknown, but it is said to have occurred in the last 10 days of Ramadan, on the odd nights of Ramadan (21st, 23rd, 25th, 27th, 29th night).

Every night in Ramadan is important, but during the last 10 days, one should intensely seek to make dua, pray and do good deeds.

In the previous reflection pages, we wanted you to reflect on your progress in achieving your personal goals. Now please reflect on your Ramadan journey.

Here are some questions that can help guide your reflection:

1. How was it?
2. Do you feel you’ve made the most of this Ramadan? If not, why not?
3. What should you continue be doing?
4. What should you stop doing?
5. What would you do different next time?

Reflect on your day before sleeping.

Alhamdulillah [(all) praise be to God]. It is time for our beloved guest Ramadan to leave after gifting us, hopefully with a closer connection to the Merciful, unforgettable moments and motivation to keep our energy for the next months while awaiting its return. We start a self-development journey during this blessed month that does not end after four weeks but continues throughout the year. It is a fantastic process that brings us closer to our inner self and an opportunity for introspection and reflection, where we listen to our thoughts and feelings. But personal development never ends.

Keep working on yourself and identify more personal goals for you to achieve. Change requires time, energy, and willingness.

إِنَّ اللَّهَ لَا يُعَزِّي مَنْ يُؤَتِّهِ خَسَىٰ يُؤَتِّهِ أَنْفُسَهُمْ [[الرعد:11]]

You can do it! Don’t forget that everyone grows at their own pace, so there is no need to rush.

Indeed, Allah is with those who are patient, and the most beloved deed to Allah are those who are done continuously.

Take good care of yourself!

Nusaybah bint Ka’ab

Nusaybah bint Ka’ab also known as Umm Ammarah, participated the battle of Uhud to take care of the injured and give water to the thirsty ones. The warriors of Quraish were starting to leave the battlefield. This misled the Muslims into thinking they could leave the position that guaranteed safety to Muslims though the beloved Prophet had specifically advised not to. The tide then turned against the Muslims and many sahaabas got martyred.

During the fight Umm ‘Ammarah saw how the Prophet Muhammed (saws) lost his teeth and that most of the companions got martyred. Despite not having any experience in fighting, she didn’t hesitate to go and protect our Prophet Muhammed (saws). Her son was hurt but she told him “Go and fight the people, my son!”.

Umar ibn al-Khattab RA narrated to us from the Messenger of Allah SAW, “Whenever I turned left or right on the day of the battle of Uhud, I always saw her (Nusaybah) fighting in my defense.”

During the battle of Uhud Nusaybah bint Ka’ab received a deep neck wound and 13 wounds that stayed with her till she passed away. Nusaybah was outspoken and remained true to her deen. Ambitious, loyal, devoted, brave and empowered, she possessed qualities we all strive to have.

Lessons learned from her story:
Islam encourages you to be brave whatever the situation, whether for the greater good or for your own good. As mothers, it is hard to see you child getting hurt but it is also important to taught them how that they should never back down from a situation and stand for what they believe and for whom they want to protect. Giving up is not an option.

Hind bint Utbah

Hind bint Utbah was a woman of actions and full of energy. Whatever she did, she did with a powerful mindset. She was the wife of Abu Sufyan and the mother of Muawiyah. Before being guided to Islam, Hind wasn't Muslims-friendly to the extent that she would hire someone to kill Hamza, the uncle of the Prophet Muhammad (saws). She assisted to the battle that ended up with the murder of Hamza. When she softened towards Islam, she didn't feel comfortable. Remorse was so intense, that she was doubting she could face the Prophet Muhammad (saws) or not.

For this very reason, she veiled her face so that the Prophet wouldn't recognize her and took her shahada. She said: “O Allah's Messenger (saws)! By Allah, there was no family on the surface of the earth, I like to see in degradation more than I did your family, but today there is no family on the surface of the earth whom I like to see honored more than yours.”

“Later on, in the Battle of Yarmouk, the Muslims defeated the Eastern Roman Empire with the help of such courageous women who fought when men ran away. As arrows started raining down on Abu Sufyan, he tried to turn his horse away. Hind struck his horse in the face with a tent-peg and said: “Where do you think you're going, O Sakhr? Go back to battle and put effort into it until you compensate for having incited people in the past against Muhammad (saws).”

Lessons learned from her story:
Mistakes (no matter how big), once realized, don’t define us. Instead of wallowing in regrets, clarify your vision and mindset and use that energy to compensate the guilt into progression!

Those who spend their wealth [in Allah’s way] by night and day, secretly and publicly— they will have their reward with their Lord. And no fear will there be concerning them, nor will they grieve.” [2: 274]

Let us use this holy month of Ramadan, where the amounts of good deeds is multiplied, to donate and take care of each other.

And don’t forget that the most beloved deeds to Allah are those which are done continuously, even if they are small. [Al-Bukhari]
